FUND OBJECTIVE

To achieve long-term capital appreciation by offering an alternative to traditional equity investing through the use of a quantitative methodology that seeks to select alpha-generating stocks across all market capitalizations and styles.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

- The Fund systematically analyzes equities across all sectors and market capitalizations. A time-tested methodology utilized for over 30 years is implemented for security selection.
- Defined buy and sell methodologies ensure a replicable approach to seeking alpha in all market conditions. The Fund eliminates artificial market segmentations to concentrate on sectors, trends and exposures exhibiting characteristics of emerging growth.
- A portfolio is constructed that reflects these attributes while limiting exposure to areas of the market showing less desirable attributes.
- The Fund will maintain a concentrated portfolio of 20 to 30 stocks and will invest at least 80% of holdings in equity securities.

INVESTMENT PROCESS

- Attempt to identify outperforming stocks from emerging industries utilizing a disciplined, quantitative methodology, which maintains investment process consistency.
- Select securities based on time-tested price momentum, relative strength and sector rotation factors.
- Use buy and sell triggers in attempt to stay invested in the stocks with the strongest characteristics.

The Catalyst Dynamic Alpha Fund seeks to offer an opportunistic, alpha-seeking investment approach utilizing a quantitative methodology based on time-tested investing factors, including relative strength and momentum.

Quantitative & Disciplined: Price momentum, sector rotation and relative strength measures form the basis of security analysis. Stock and sector strength are ranked and monitored, and defined buy and sell triggers are utilized.
